

ANGOSTURA

We Have A War On Our Hands

Not only war of battlefields on the ground, aeroplanes in the air, submarines on the surface and under the sea, but a war also constantly going on against the human race by countless microbes, disease germs in the air and in food and drink. It is as fatal in many cases as a poisonous bullet, but when the system is in perfect condition, these same germs are comparatively harmless.

If you are weakened in any way, or suffer from impoverished blood, loss of appetite, nervous headache, sluggishness of the intestinal tract, insomnia, depression of spirits or relaxation arising from weakness or relaxation of the digestive organs, you should use Angostura Bitters as a household tonic.

It is designed to build up the system by natural methods, increasing the appetite, assisting the digestion and assimilation of food, enriching the blood, improving the circulation and creating healthy tissue.

NOT BUSINESS, BUT MERE ARGUMENT, SAYS LONDON

GERMAN REPLY "CAMOUFLAGED INSINCERITY."

Duty of Allies Plain—Must Fight Now as if It Were Beginning of War.

London, Oct. 21.—The German reply to President Wilson is regarded here as "not business, but mere argument and protestation." In government, diplomatic and political circles the view is that it is not a reply, but simply a resort to verbiage designed to cover the absence of reply. One highly placed official described it as "badly camouflaged insincerity." The government has not considered the reply in detail, although Premier Lloyd George and his colleagues held protracted deliberations today.

Henry M. Hyndman, leader of the British socialists, said: "The reply is simply another piece of shuffling. I hope President Wilson will answer it very abruptly and briefly. At any rate, he has given Emperor William an opportunity to say that he and his people are one in the same sort of duplicity and treachery to which we have been treated throughout the war."

"If President Wilson were to accept this reply as a basis for negotiation, in my opinion, he would simply be sacrificing the dignity of the position which he has worthily gained."

"Our Duty is Plain." Frederick George Kelloway, parliamentary secretary to the minister of munitions, said:

"The note says that evacuation and armistice must be based on the actual standard of power on both sides in the field. Does that phrase cover relative strength at sea, relative strength in production of guns, shells, airplanes and material? If not, why are they ruled out?"

"Only our leaders, Premier Lloyd George, Premier Clemenceau and President Wilson on the political side, and Marshal Foch, Field Marshal Haig and Gen. Pershing on the military side, can say if the note means that Germany is at last prepared to face the facts and draw the inevitable conclusions."

"For the rest of us our duty is plain. It is to go on producing munitions or fighting as if it were at the beginning of the war rather than approaching the inevitable end. The way to make an early peace is to be ready for a long war."

KAISER MUST BEAR CROSS

No Dishonor to Surrender—Berlin Cheers Harden.

Amsterdam, Oct. 22.—(A. P.)—"We are alone. When a fortress can no longer hold it is dishonor to the commander to surrender. The Kaiser must take up his cross of concluding quickly necessary peace and accepting whatever is hard. Let the Kaiser declare himself ready and let him fit himself with new Germany as her first citizen."

This utterance by Maximilian Harden, addressed to several thousand people in Berlin on Sunday, was loudly applauded. Harden, whose plain-spoken language in Die Zukunft, of which he is editor, has caused a suspension of that journal on several occasions, was permitted, according to the reports of his address, to speak freely and without hindrance. His remarkable declaration respecting surrender and the "Kaiser's cross" followed a review of the situation in which he pointed out that Bulgaria was occupied, Turkey was sealed and Austria-Hungary was out of the fight.

The meeting ended in a riotous demonstration.

"It is one of the most cruel ironies that this war, which was begun to maintain an impossible Austria, should be ended by the declaration of that self-same Austria that it cannot exist," continued Herr Harden. "We must shoulder the consequences of the step taken Oct. 5."

Says a Scranton, Pa., special of October 10: "Values of the boroughs up and down the valley from Scranton take steps to comply with the general plan outlined to check the spread of influenza in this region. Mayor Alex. Connel will close every street in question in this city from the town in question he declared today. He is determined that health rules be enforced and that the borough will do so to the letter."

Two thousand of the 3,000 inhabitants of Simpson, near Carbondale, are in with influenza and pneumonia and a public kitchen has been installed there to feed famished people who were found virtually starving.

ACTS FAIL TO BEAR OUT HUNS' PROTESTATIONS

NOTE COMES ON HEELS OF SINKING OF VESSEL.

Daily Mail Describes Reply as "Puerile and Incoherent."

London, Oct. 22.—"Puerile and incoherent" is the description given to the latest German peace note by the Daily Mail.

"The note comes out the same time as the news of the sinking of the steamship Dundaik in the Irish sea, by a German submarine. At the same time comes news of the sinking of food vessel by the American patrol ship on Oct. 20. The allies have no proof of any change on the part of Germany."

"The German note means that Germany must gain time of the state and the German military will collapse," said Lord Northcliffe.

"Peace should be signed in Berlin," declared Charles Beresford. "For a country that had been butchered for other countries that had been devastated, and for the millions of women that had been wronged, Germany shall meet her merited doom."

Impudent and Inacceptable.

The Chronicle calls the note impudent and declares that it is unacceptable.

"It is vague and intended to prolong useless discussion," says the Telegraph.

"The German note means that the German armies shall be enabled to march home with munitions ready to fight," said the Daily Post.

"It is an attempt to make a contemptible assumption of injured virtue and calamity. It is a device to save not only the German people, but the German criminals. To talk with Germany is useless until that country is disarmed and thoroughly defeated."

The Daily News said that the allies must come in line with President Wilson's points.

VERY LOW DEATH RATE

Influenza at Lafayette is of a Mild Form.

Only a Few Deaths.

LaFayette, Ga., Oct. 22.—(Special).—The influenza epidemic did not miss LaFayette and community, for there have been some 300 or 400 cases of the disease in and around here, and the local physicians have been kept busy night and day. While there have been quite a number of cases, there has been a very low death rate and very few cases of pneumonia developing therefrom.

As a precautionary measure, the city council a week ago passed an order closing all schools, churches, Sunday schools, theaters and forbidding the congregating of people at all public places, such as depot, postoffice, etc.

Local physicians say the disease is on a decrease in this community.
